PRESS RELEASE

Home Minders Buys Stark Joseph

Home Minders (London) Limited, based in New Southgate, has acquired the lettings and property management business known as Stark Joseph

The purchase increases the Home Minders business from just over 150 to almost 250 properties under management plus a number of let-only tenancies. It allows Home Minders to consolidate its position north of the Thames and provide an even more focused management service to its landlords.

Managing Director, Paul Ruocco said: "This acquisition is a perfect fit with the current Home Minders portfolio as it strengthens our position in the North London marketplace while continuing to allow us to service our properties in Central, East and West London."

Paul Ruocco says that this acquisition is all about providing excellent service to its clients, existing and new: "This is part of an ongoing strategy to expand the business without losing sight of our desire to offer first class service. We are small enough to be able to react to tenant issues personally, but large enough to employ regular contractors that will respond immediately."

The Stark Joseph branding will eventually be replaced by Home Minders branding, but clients will not notice any material changes in the short term. The Stark Joseph management will be working with Home Minders over the next few months to ensure a smooth transition.
